RAPA NUI

Rapa Nui, the most isolated inhabited island in the world, in the middle of the Pacific Ocean, delivers an unmistakable authenticity. With more than a thousand moais, statues that defy all human logic, Rapa Nui is a place surrounded by magic and mystery.

Our goal is to bring our guests closer to living the magical experience that the island offers. To know, admire and take care of their traditions, their culture and their special energy, we are associated with our Rapa Nui partner, who, together with trained local guides and experts in Polynesian culture, help us transmit and pay tribute to this great culture, which is still alive.

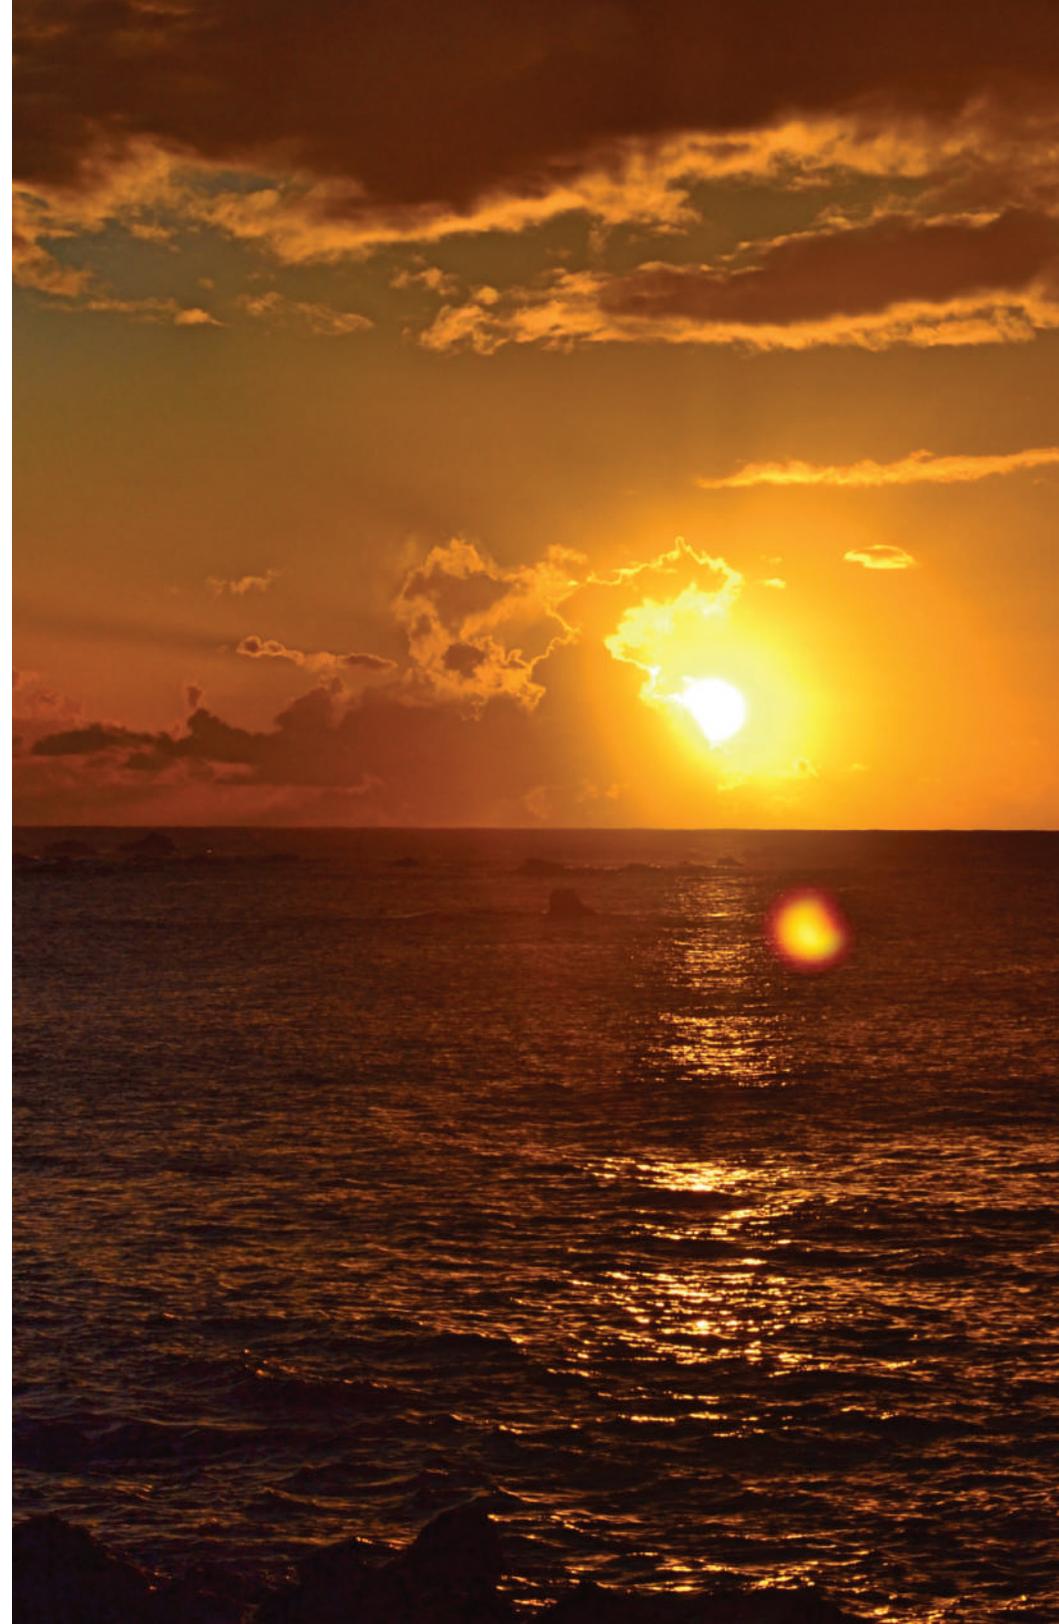

Through our various archaeological, cultural, contemplative and active excursions, you choose how to discover the infinite secrets of this fascinating destination.

¿What to pack?

- Appropriate footwear for walking
Remember that the island is of volcanic origin, therefore the ground is constantly uneven
- Comfortable and light clothing, in addition to a windbreaker and raincoat
The subtropical climate of Rapa Nui allows it to be a year-round destination, you can enjoy beautiful sunsets and tropical rains, therefore, we recommend always having layers of clothing. The temperature fluctuates little during the day, in winter they are around 20 ° C and in summer 28 ° C
- Sunscreen
- Sunglasses
- Jockey and / or Hat
The island is an open-air museum, there is no way to explore it without being exposed to the sun

TARAI MOAI

We will start the afternoon discovering one of the most emblematic places of Rapa Nui, Rano Raraku, the main quarry, in which the Moai were carved. In this impressive place there are 397 Moai in different stages of construction. During this tour, in addition to unveiling the great mystery of how these were carved, we will learn about the different theories of transport of these huge rocks to the various platforms that are around the entire island.

Then, the excursion continues to one of the most famous points of the island and of the entire Polynesian triangle, therefore, prepare your cameras for the best photos, the Ahu Tongariki ceremonial structure, a platform of approximately 220 meters that has 15 large Moai restored on it.
